

STATE S. S. WORKERS IN ANNUAL MEET

Annual Convention Begins At Newport Today—New Method Suggested For Grading

(By Associated Press)

Newport, Ky., Oct. 4.—A new method of grading county Sunday School Associations in Kentucky together with "Service Points" and suggestions for association officers training and Better Sunday School Campaigns are outlined in the recommendations of the State Executive Committee of the Kentucky State Sunday School Association made here today at the opening session of the annual convention of the organization.

The recommendation divides the County Associations into four classes in which nineteen organization points figure. These are as follows: 1. County Map—responsibility of county secretary; 2. Association Officers' Conference—responsibility of County President; 3. District Convention and Conference—responsibility of County and District President; 4. Department Conferences—responsibility of Department Superintendent; 5. Every Sunday School Reached; 6. Every Sunday School Reported; 7. Home Visitation; 8. Better Sunday School Campaign; 9. Community Observance of Special Days; 10. Young Peoples Conference; 11. Young People's Councils; 12. Special Institutes; 13. Community Workers Councils; 14. Reading Circles; 15. School of Methods; 16. Vacation Religious Week Day Schools; 17. Sunday School Exhibit at County Fair; 18. Representation in Association Training School; 19. Participation in other forms of Community Religious Activities.

The Class A Sunday Schools will have County Conventions, pay their apportionment and hold meetings of the County Committee; Class B will have the Class A points and in addition ten of the service points; Class C will have a Standard County Convention, regular meetings of the County Executive Committee, Complete Statistical Report of Sunday Schools; Reports of the County Officers at the County Convention, Apportionment to State paid in full, District Conventions, Officially represented at State Convention and represented at Association Officers' Training Conference as well as at least ten service points and Class D will be Sunday Schools with all organization points listed in Class C and in addition all of the enumerated service points.

The executive committee suggested that leaders attend the training conference at Geneva and Blue Ridge and that a school for workers be held at Berea besides at least five three-session sectional conferences. A Better Sunday School Campaign preceding the "Go-to-Sunday-School-Day" campaign in an effort to better administration, home cooperation, evangelism, training workers and response of pupils.

In conclusion the committee recommended continuation of all of the activities of 1921.

Nothing To Worry Over, Says Frisco Banker

(By Associated Press)

Los Angeles, Oct. 4.—There is nothing in either the foreign or domestic situation to warrant a pessimistic conclusion that the world is riding straight to ruin, John S. Drum, San Francisco banker, told the American Bankers Association, of which he is president, at the opening session here today of its 47th annual convention. He said "no problems are but the natural manifestation of world-wide maladjustment which great natural forces are working to remedy."

Here is a wrap that will delight those women who admire handsome embroidery and rich fringes in the company of luxurious looking furs. It is made of a fine coating of the velours type, which lends itself to these decorations and is entitled to be classed as a superb coat.

M'CLINTOCK WRITES BACK TO HIS FRIENDS

Egin, Nebr., Sept. 28
Richmond Daily Register:

Dear Brother:—Having received my appointment as Conference Evangelist, I left on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 13, for this place to hold a revival meeting. God is blessing and conviction is on the people. We will be here until the 10th of October. This is a wonderful country. It seems to me it would be a good place to raise children as there are no rocks to throw. The soil is said to be as productive, 30 feet down, as it is on the surface. The principal crops are corn, oats and alfalfa hay. They have a native grass that makes fine hay, but once plowed up, there is no way of getting another crop, as it has no seed. They have what we call "cotton tail" rabbits and jack rabbits which none of the "crack" fox hounds of good old Madison county catch. That is, unless a crowd of them gathered in my good friend, J. W. Maupin's office at the court house, then to here the "boys" tell of a "jack rabbit" would have no chance with their dogs. I saw three coyotes the other day.

The wind blows nearly all day but generally settles at night. Nearly everybody has a wind mill. Unless the wind blows they have no water. They remind me of a whole lot of Methodists. As long as the wind of a revival blows, they are all right, but when the revival is over, you never see or hear of them until next time you have a big meeting.

I thank God when I was saved I received an artisan well, and thank God, it runs all the time.

Well, I enjoy reading the best paper on earth—The Register—way up here. I haven't seen any place I love better than old Madison. Your friend,
J. A. M'CLINTOCK.

School Fair In Powell

The county school fair of Powell county was held last Saturday. Under the leadership of Miss Maude Bowen, the enthusiastic and able superintendent of Powell all kinds of school exhibits, displays, and contests were entered. Miss Bowen is a former student of Eastern, and she is showing in her work there some of the finest results of her training here. Prof. Chas. Keith, of Richmond, and Prof. R. P. Green, State Supervisor of High Schools, were the two speakers, and Prof. J. W. Ireland, of Frankfort, was there to sing for them. A great throng attended the meeting and the court house was packed to capacity for the regular program.

Attention Democrats

If you reside in Richmond and desire to vote in the November election, you MUST register at your voting precinct Tuesday, October 4. It is absolutely necessary. Do not forget it. You can register any time between the hours of 6 A. M. and 9 P. M. Be sure to register Oct. 4th.

TODD FARM SELLS FOR GOOD FIGURE

The farm home of the late Mrs. Mary E. Todd was bought by her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Rogers, at administrator's sale conducted by James A. Todd last week. The farm of 65 acres containing the old home, went to Mrs. Rogers on her bid of $200 an acre. It is located about three miles from Paint Lick, near Gum Spring. The other tract of 65 acres was bought by R. P. Bodkins, of the same community, at $140 an acre. Col. Jesse Cobb was on the block and kept things moving at the sale in his usual splendid style. Live stock and other things all sold well. Old corn brought $3.50 a barrel and new corn $2.65. Harry L. Francis bought a saddle mare for $207, J. A. Dozier bought a horse for $100; a mule lot sold for $36; milk cows brought from $31 to $71. An old fashioned clock sold for $100.

BIG HILL MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

The Berea Citizen said last week: It is reported that Jacob Haley, a resident of near Big Hill, tried to end his life with a knife, Wednesday morning, September 28. The attempted suicide was caused by financial hardship, it is said. Alex Settle, a resident of Big Hill, intervened in time to prevent the tragedy.

NORTH CAROLINA LEAF SALES LOW

Danville, Ky., Oct. 4.—W. E. Moss, of this city, has just returned from a visit to relatives in North Carolina, where he visited several of the tobacco markets, reports that the growers are disappointed with the open sales. The following was clipped from the Oxford, N. C., Public Ledger, and will give some information on the subject:

"The 73,000 pounds of tobacco sold here last Tuesday which ushered in the season of 1921-22, was a sad disappointment. The people in this section had learned from year to year that Granville county tobacco sold at least 15 or 20 per cent higher than the South Carolina crop, and from 10 to 12 per cent above the Eastern Carolina prices; but the prices in South Carolina and Eastern North Carolina were higher than the prices on the opening day. It is the first time in the history of the weed that such a thing happened. The only way to account for the discrepancy was caused either by the grades offered or by the market not being thoroughly organized on the opening day.

"Now it may appear from published reports that Oxford was the lowest market in this section of the state on opening day, but such is not the case by a long shot. One market in this belt claimed that the average was 20 cents, but 12 1-2 cents was the correct figure.

"The offering on Wednesday Thursday was light with prices almost double that of opening date. It was observed yesterday that a pile of tobacco sold for 48 cents the pound; on opening day the same grade sold for 20 cents. "It is useless to pretend that the prices offered for medium and common grades were satisfactory to the farmers. The better grades sold reasonably well and in some instances for higher prices than last year. The break was largely of common tobacco and as a consequence the average is low."

Witnesses Missing When Priest Murder Trial Is Called Today

Redwood City, Cal., Oct. 3.—Important witnesses for both the state and defense were absent today as the hour drew near for the trial of William Hightower, charged with the murder of Rev. Patrick E. Heslin, Catholic priest. The state was unable to locate Marie Wendel, the priest's housekeeper and the defense was seeking Dolly Mason, an important witness.

Several cases of diphtheria are reported among the children at Berea.

LIQUOR VIOLATIONS STRONGLY STRESSED

Judge Shackelford Gives Grand Jury Vigorous Charge On Opening of Circuit Court

Violators of the liquor laws again featured the charge which Judge W. R. Shackelford gave to a Madison county grand jury upon the convening of a term of circuit court. The October term was called to order Tuesday morning and the Judge devoted a considerable portion of the morning to giving the grand jury one of the most comprehensive charges that he has delivered lately.

As he has done so forcefully before, Judge Shackelford stressed the increasing activities of the moon-shiner and bootlegger. In connection with them he pointed out that each usually is armed; not for any legitimate purpose, but for the purpose of shooting and killing, if necessary, anyone who seeks to interfere with their illegal business. This is another outcropping of the tendency on the part of many to carry deadly weapons concealed, which the Judge scored heavily.

Referring to bootleggers Judge Shackelford said that the grand jury would be surprised how many people are engaged in the business. He cited that the making of what passes for whisky, has become an easy thing to many who do not care what they put in it or how they produce the vile stuff, just so they can sell it. He said that it has gotten so you can sell a man almost anything in a jar. He told of having poured out a large quantity in Winchester the other day, and in the bottom of several jugs was a lot of potash, which had settled from the so-called whisky—deadly poison, he said.

Up in Powell county, the Judge said, he was told that one method of making "whisky" in a hurry was to boil the mash in a tub with a horse blanket over it. After the blanket had become thoroughly saturated with the setam, it was lifted off and wrung out, and the stuff obtained was sold for whisky.

"It's just a question whether the bootlegger is going to take us or we take them," declared the Judge in impressing upon the grand jury that they represented the best sentiment of the community and there was no other or higher power that could be invoked to secure protection for law-abiding citizens and prosecution of the criminals.

Touching on speeding of automobile owners, Judge Shackelford said that he hoped something could be done to reach the fiends who run with their cut-outs open and ruin the nerves of people in town trying to sleep or rest in the day. He said if he had his way about it he'd make a law to put the cut-out fiends in the penitentiary for life.

Instructing the grand jury to carefully investigate if the gambling laws are being violated, Judge Shackelford stressed principally a game which might be set up by anyone and operated where anyone might go and gamble. He pointed out that such an offense is a felony. The Judge said he was not one of the kind who sought cheap publicity by insisting that a ladies' bridge party, playing for a trophy or prize, should reasonably come under the head of gambling. He told the grandjurymen that they are men of sense and standing and should use their discretion about all cases that should come before them, seeking to carry out the plain intent of the law but not permitting themselves to be used to gratify any personal or private spite or revenge.

The grand jury is composed of W. A. Baxter, foreman; S. M. Cornelison, S. S. Million, T. S. Todd, Joe Long, Jr., J. H. Dawson, L. W. Dunbar, Leslie Turpin, Charles L. Tipton, Turley Nolan and Wesley Curry.

The petit jury drawn was composed of the following gentlemen: E. A. Savage, Prewitt Willoughby, P. W. Tipton, Roy Dunn, M. F. Enright, Ernest Davis, Henry Harris, A. K. McCown, Vernon Lear, Todd Moore, Ernest Parrish, S. O. Griggs, Marcus Eads, Ralph Parks, T. E. Hendren, D. L. Bogie, Wm. Munday, R. E. Baker, Wm. Watts, Jas. T. Coy,

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 4.—Boyd Morrow, of Somerset, today was appointed Circuit Judge of the 28th judicial district to succeed Judge Bethurum, who resigned to become legal adviser to Prohibition Director Sam Collins, of Lexington. Morrow is a brother of the Governor.

Bethurum Sworn In
Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—Judge Bethurum took the oath of office Monday as legal adviser to Collins. A report as to who would be named Assistant Prohibition Director could not be verified.

PARTY WORKERS VERY BUSY IN REGISTRATION

Both political parties had their workers mighty busy all of Tuesday getting men and women to the polls to register so that they shall be entitled to vote in the November election.

Reports at 3 o'clock in the afternoon were that the voters were coming out strong and a larger registration than last year is expected by many due to the national interest aroused in the county races. The polls remain open until 9 o'clock tonight for newcomers who did not register during the day.

As a basis of comparison, last year's figures may be of interest. In 1920 the democrats registered 1,487 and the republicans 1,576, a democratic majority of 111. The total registration of both parties was divided up men 1,455; women 1,515.

SHOOTING AT KLAN FROM ALL SIDES

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The Ku Klux Klan engenders "deep hatred" in the hearts of those whose creeds or races are discriminated against particularly when the Klan lays claim to 100 per cent Americanism. Federal Assistant District Attorney Clinlin said in a statement today after an investigation of the organization. He said the investigation was made after reports that the organization planned a demonstration that might result in race trouble. Clinlin refused to say whether a grand jury inquiry would be conducted into the Klan's affairs but said he had secured a list of its officers and members.

Texas Judges After Klan

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 4.—Six district judges are on record today as having denounced the Ku Klux Klan. They called upon grand juries to investigate the organization at Paris, Austin, Beaumont, Sherman, and Tyler. Officials of San Antonio and Cameron also warned that parades of masked men will not be permitted.

Another Merchant Comes In On Boosters' Day

Newby Brothers, the proprietors of the Army store on the corner of First and Irvine streets, have thrown their hats into the ring with the other happy merchants who are making Richmond's booster day one of the biggest in the history of the town. They are offering an unusually attractive prize of an Indian blanket, and will also give coupons on each dollar purchase and each dollar paid on account.

VanWinkle Gets Four Years

But one criminal case is on the docket for this week. Ras VanWinkle, who shot an eye out for Tom Robinson in a drunken brawl near Silver Creek some months ago, was given four years by the jury. VanWinkle claimed that the gun happened to go off while they were pranking and he did not intend to shoot anyone. His wife and seven small children were in the courtroom.

REVEALING NEW IDEAS

Many new ideas appear in this formal tailored frock for the coming fall and winter in which the Vogue for embroidery and that for fringes have been so artfully and beautifully united. It takes the place of a formal tailored suit, and is perhaps even more adaptable to many occasions than its forerunner. The picture tells its story; but note the shape of the neck and sleeves, the narrow waistline and strap belt, the ingenious placing of embroidery—they are all important.

The Weather
Fair and continued cool tonight; probably light frost; Wednesday fair and slightly warmer.

MRS. RHODA C. EMBRY GOES TO HER REWARD

Beloved Woman Succumbs at Her Home at Waco Tuesday at Advanced Age

After an illness of many weary months, death relieved the sufferings of Mrs. Rhoda Cobb Embry, at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, at her home near Waco, aged 76 years. The death of Mrs. Embry marks the passing away of one of the few remaining members of an old and splendid family who have alike been beloved and honored by every citizen in the county. Everyone knew her and to know her was to love her, for she had many beautiful traits of character which attracted people to her. She always greeted everyone with a cheerful, pleasant smile, and even during her hours of greatest suffering, showed the kindest consideration for those who tried to make her comfortable and showed most beautiful Christian fortitude.

She was a devoted member of the Baptist church at Waco and her loss will be deeply felt where she was so much needed. Surviving her are one son, Charles Embry, her mother, Mrs. Tabitha Cobb, who is in her 91st year, two sisters, Mrs. Ida Monday, of Virginia, and Mrs. Harding of Georgia, Mrs. Charles Colyer, of Wyoming, two brothers, Jesse Cobb, of Waco, and R. C. Cobb, of Cincinnati.

Funeral services had not been arranged as the Daily Register goes to press.
